

Unloader® One

The Unloader One® osteoarthritis knee brace is a revolutionary design perfected by Ossur. It effectively does exactly what its name says, unloading weight medially or laterally from the painful areas allowing patients to enhance mobility levels and return to the activities and interests they enjoy.

The Unloader's exclusive three Points of Leverage design reduces weight bearing when the knee is extended and weighted and relaxes when it is not. This system provides a distinctive shell and strap design making the Unloader braces the most comfortable and successful solutions available.

Call for an appointment to speak with a Lehneis orthotist to see if this brace is appropriate for you. □
