

Who is Lehneis Orthotics & Prosthetics?

Every healthcare practice has a special niche where their strengths lie and they perform their best work. Lehneis is no exception and has enjoyed a very long reputation for quality devices and problem solving ability with custom fabricated orthoses and prostheses.

Our long term patients, referral sources and managed care insurance companies have come to depend upon the expertise of our American Board Certified Orthotists and Prosthetists. Any practitioner, therapist or fitter can provide an off-the-shelf device but only a knowledgeable and experienced practitioner can design and fabricate a quality custom device. Lehneis practitioners are trained to seek solutions outside the box and to go the extra distance to do what is in the best interest of our patients.

In the ever changing healthcare environment, it is the companies like Lehneis who operate with the same philosophy and stringent standards as when we were established 40 years ago that survive.

Lehneis is a step ahead in many ways. The Company continues to become a provider for an ever increasing number of managed care organizations so we may provide continuity of care for our patients while minimizing their financial responsibility. In response to our patient requests, we have recently joined the United Healthcare network and also accept HIP insurance. Lehneis looks forward to working with our patients, referral sources and managed care companies for many years to come. □
