Axtion® Foot Provides The Ultimate Walking Solution

The 1E56 Axtion® foot eliminates the challenge of walking for active patients who benefit from a lightweight, high function foot. A special design, low profile footshell was intended for use with this foot.

Manufactured with the high performance combination of urethane and carbon, this low profile design provides smooth ambulation from heel strike to mid stance via the control of a dynamic heel.

The Axtion® foot provides superb support and energy return at the forefoot and will surpass the expectations of the most challenging patient. The ideal wearer enjoys an active lifestyle and participates in activities like baseball, basketball, tennis or running.

Your Lehneis Prosthetist would be happy to discuss this foot option with you. □
